

You are cordially invited to the 2006 May Hill Arbuthnot Honor Lecture

*The Past Isn't Past: How History Speaks, and What It Says to the Next Generation
by Russell Freedman*

*Friday, April 28, 7:00 pm
at the Kimball Theatre
Williamsburg, Virginia Reception to follow.*

Call 1-800-HISTORY for seats starting March 1.

Hosted by the Library of Virginia, the Williamsburg Regional Library, and the Center for the Book at the Virginia Foundation for the Humanities.

Russell Freedman is the author of over 50 books for children and young adults and the recipient of over 20 awards, including the Newbery Medal and three Newbery Honors. He is also among only 14 recipients in the past 50 years of the Laura Ingalls Wilder Medal for a substantial contribution to children's literature.

Detail from the survey of Land of Judith Jones, 1833. William Webb, Surveyor. From the collections of the Library of Virginia.